

Let's Rethink University!

We are a group of university students, researchers and employees. We experience the uncertainty caused by the university reforms in our everyday studies and work. There simply is no clear information about the fate of University of Jyväskylä or its fields of study.

We want to question the sort of university development from which students and staff have been shut out. The universities are being attached to commercial interests tighter than ever before. They're being made into production facilities functioning like corporations. The clearest manifestation of these intentions is the attempt to rewrite the Finnish law on universities. However, the process has already been going on for some time.

We seek a different kind of university. We want to open up and politicize the change process and search alternatives. All university reforms must be based on students', researchers' and employees' own needs. The core of university activity is the co-operation of university people, which must be listened to and empowered.

Let's build a new, open university together. We want to challenge the corporate university and seek alternatives.

We organize meetings, demonstrations et cetera.

Welcome!

The Common University Network
<http://yhteinenliopisto.wordpress.com>

Let's Rethink University!

We are a group of university students, researchers and employees. We experience the uncertainty caused by the university reforms in our everyday studies and work. There simply is no clear information about the fate of University of Jyväskylä or its fields of study.

We want to question the sort of university development from which students and staff have been shut out. The universities are being attached to commercial interests tighter than ever before. They're being made into production facilities functioning like corporations. The clearest manifestation of these intentions is the attempt to rewrite the Finnish law on universities. However, the process has already been going on for some time.

We seek a different kind of university. We want to open up and politicize the change process and search alternatives. All university reforms must be based on students', researchers' and employees' own needs. The core of university activity is the co-operation of university people, which must be listened to and empowered.

Let's build a new, open university together. We want to challenge the corporate university and seek alternatives.

We organize meetings, demonstrations et cetera.

Welcome!

The Common University Network
<http://yhteinenliopisto.wordpress.com>